The Schoolcraft College Foundation Board of Governors' new officers for the 2003–2004 term took the helm in July 2003. They are Tom Marek, president; Charlie McIlhargey, president elect; Karl Zimmerman, vice president; Maureen Foley, secretary; and Margaret Slezak, treasurer.

Marek is manager of corporate food services at Ford Motor Company at Ford World Headquarters in Dearborn. He has been a member of the Board of Governors since 2000, and has served on the Culinary Extravaganza Sponsors Committee since 1999. Marek also serves as a global consultant for food service companies and is a member of the Society for Food Management. He received his culinary training at Cornell University and the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, New York.

The board also approved two additional members, Tom Davis and Elaine Koons, at the July 17, 2003 board meeting.

Davis is General Manager of Country Fresh, in Livonia, and has held other management positions with the company. Koons, recently retired from Livonia Public Schools, where she served as a teacher, speech therapist and administrator. She has been a member of the Planning Commission and other boards, and chaired the Great Race Committee which brought national vintage car activity to Livonia.

Foundation Scholars Set High Goals

This year's Foundation scholars, Jennifer Stevenson and Deena Ideh, epitomize our funding priorities.

Jennifer is a working mother and Schoolcraft student who plans to earn a bachelor's degree at Eastern Michigan University and teach elementary school. In addition to her other responsibilities, she has contributed to her community as a member of the Schoolcraft Scholars Program, Phi Theta Kappa, the Student Activities Office, Future Educators, the Erikson Elementary School PTO, as a parent volunteer at Erikson and as a member of the National Dean's List.

Jennifer Stevenson

Deena's ultimate goal is to become a pediatrician, work at a major hospital and open her own practice. She plans to attend Wayne State University. She is financing her education through scholarships and is acutely aware of the years of study ahead of her. Her involvements in the community include Phi Theta Kappa, the Student Activities Board, the Mentor program and St. Leo's Soup Kitchen.

Those Year-End Appeals

With roughly 1,250,000 charities operating in the United States—and most of them seeking year-end contributions—it's no wonder your mailbox bulges with appeal letters as the calendar year winds down. Seems like everybody wants your money!

Sorting through the mail, you find familiar organizations and some you don't recognize. You wonder, "How did these people get my name?" To add to the onslaught of mail, your telephone rings more often. "Please help us meet our financial crisis!" "We'll have to close our doors if we don't pay our bills." "Children will starve unless you give." "The sky is falling, the sky is falling!"

It's downright confusing. As you consider the variety and intensity of the financial appeals you receive, we hope you will remember at least five things about the Schoolcraft College Foundation:

1. We count you as part of our family.

Whether you are a recent friend of Schoolcraft College Foundation or a longtime supporter, we value your interest and involvement. We consider you a partner with us in this great enterprise. You are part of our family, and together we share a common commitment, a common mission.

2. We remain true to our mission.

As you know, our mission is to help remove the financial barriers to higher education by providing scholarship support to our students. We also provide faculty and staff grant funding for emerging or innovative initiatives. We want you to know that we have not veered from this, nor do we intend to. We lay our plans, build our budget and monitor our results to better achieve this mission. You can have confidence that we are "staying the course."

3. We depend on your faithful giving.

Whether a small gift or a larger estate gift, we rely on your financial support to help us accomplish our mission. The more you give, the more we can do. It's that simple. On the other hand, without you and our other supporters, we simply could not succeed.

4. We pledge financial fidelity and stewardship.

We wince when we hear of scandals involving nonprofit organizations, because this casts a shadow over all charities. We want to affirm to you that financial integrity is extremely important to us. We maintain strict accounting and reporting rules.

All of our funds are professionally managed and are subjected to an annual audit by Plante Moran. Our books are open, and we invite any donor to scrutinize us to the limit.

Please know that your contribution to Schoolcraft College Foundation is treated carefully, and with a keen sense of confidentiality and stewardship.

5. We offer personalized service.

Do you have appreciated stock or real estate that would make a tax-wise gift? Do you need to receive lifetime income as part of your gift to Schoolcraft College Foundation? For these and similar questions, please contact us. We will meet with you personally to talk about your giving goals and to show you various options. We will guard your confidences and respect your freedom. We also are available to consult with your professional advisors.

As year-end appeals come and your thoughts turn more toward charitable giving, remember Schoolcraft College Foundation. And please call us at 734-462-4501 or e-mail us at plannedgiving@schoolcraft.edu to learn more about year-end gift planning.

A Message from our New Foundation President

Greetings from Schoolcraft College Foundation! As another academic year has begun and the process of awarding scholarships is well underway, we are mindful of the generosity of our supporters, who have helped to make student scholarships possible. This semester has marked a milestone for Schoolcraft College as we celebrate our highest enrollment in the history of the college. This increased enrollment coupled with trying economic times, has demand for financial aid growing dramatically. These factors have put a tremendous strain on the limited number of scholarship funds available. The Foundation is committed to growing and stewarding its endowment to ensure that scholarship aid is available to as many students as possible. However, your continued support is essential. I invite you to participate in this year's Annual Foundation Campaign.

The Foundation Board of Governor's is a devoted and talented group of individuals committed to the success of the college. In September, the Foundation hosted the annual Culinary Extravaganza. Board members and volunteers alike made this event successful, raising more than $100,000 for student scholarships! Volunteers are critical to the success of our activities; we are always open to new people and new ideas. I would encourage you to contact the Development Office at 734-462-4463 if you would like to become a volunteer. We are planning an exciting year, and I encourage you to invest of your time, talents and financial resources in the work of the Foundation. Together we can transform lives and make a difference.

Culinary Extravaganza

Delights Eyes and Palates

The annual Schoolcraft College Foundation Culinary Extravaganza, held September 21st, was a chance to feast the eyes on the new VisTaTech Center as well as indulge in many gourmet delights. Approximately 60 eateries and wineries participated in this fundraiser, providing samples of their most exciting offerings to more than 1,000 patrons. This year's co-chairs were John Bowen of Novi Expo Center and Suzanne Thomas-Hughes of Flagstar Bank.

Restaurant and beverage distributors competed for the Best Table Display award, using various food or seasonal themes. Sodexo received this award.

Patrons attended a free wine tasting seminar, and voted for their favorite restaurant. LaBistecca won The People's Choice first place award, with Loving Spoonful second and The Farm third.

A live auction followed the wine tasting, with patrons bidding on such favorites as a Mackinac Island getaway, a northern Michigan weekend retreat, a private ice skating party for 40, or a hot air balloon ride. New this year on the auction block was a reprint of a Thomas Arvid painting valued at $3,500, donated by Ray Frederick and Chris Peppo of Sterling Services. Arvid uses wine as the focus of his works. A silent auction proved to be a popular stopping spot where patrons bid on Lions and Red Wings tickets, and spa and dinner certificates.

The 86,000 square-foot VisTaTech Center, which houses the student-run American Harvest Restaurant, instructional kitchens for Culinary Arts, and various presentation areas for receptions, meetings and banquets, enhanced the entire event for patrons and restaurateurs by showcasing the facility and all that it has to offer. The event raised $105,000 for student scholarships at the college.

VisTaTech Officially Opens

The campus and community celebrated the grand opening of the VisTaTech Center

Friday, Sept. 5 with an elaborate event, yet one that had the feeling of an open house among good friends. Guests could take guided tours or simply wander around the new $27 million building on their own, snack on delicious food prepared by Culinary Arts staff and students, or get a taste of the latest technology.

At the official ribbon-cutting ceremony, President Conway A. Jeffress called the building a college icon, a graphic symbol of the vision and forward thinking that characterizes the college, as well as an instrument for furthering the college's core purpose.

Speakers included Board of Trustees President Mary Breen, College President Emeritus Richard McDowell, Wayne County Executive Robert Ficano, State Senator Laura Toy, and spokespersons for U.S. Congressman Joe Knollenburg and overall construction project manager Barton Mallow.

Speakers uniformly praised the building's beauty, functionality and technology, and the college's commitment to the intellectual and economic welfare of the community.

The new building is debt free, paid for by a combination of state, federal, college and donor funds. "I find this building to be splendid," said Jeffress.

"We built it with no millage or bond issue to the taxpayers, no excess burden on the students, and no tin cups at the door. We still operate under the rule, 'First we save, then we spend.'"

During the ceremony, Jeffress received the designation Eminent Wisdom Fellow from the Wisdom Hall of Fame, conferred by Dr. E.J. McClendon, Plymouth educator, friend of the college and past recipient of a Schoolcraft honorary degree.

SCF Annual Recognition 2002-03

(July 1, 2002-June 30, 2003)

The Schoolcraft College Foundation Board of Governors is pleased to continue its tradition of recognizing current donors.

We have done our best to accurately present this contributors' list; however, in compiling a list of this size, omissions and misspellings sometimes occur. Please let us know of any errors. We appreciate the opportunity to correct our records. To make corrections please contact the Development Office at 734-462-4463.

Contributors listed have donated to the Schoolcraft College Foundation between July 1, 2002 and June 30, 2003. Giving levels are based on annual gifts.

On-Campus Fundraising Campaigns Begins

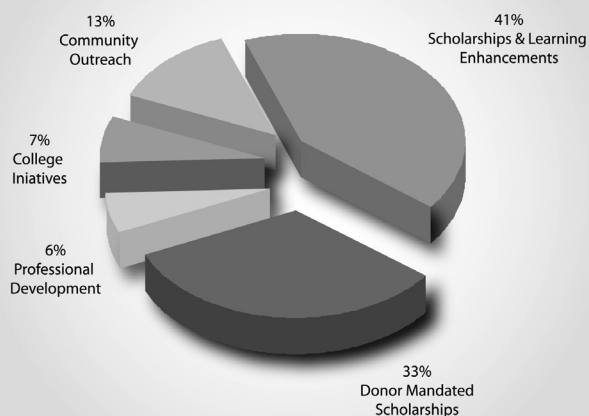

Transforming Lives...Making a Difference is the simple but powerful theme of the 2003 Schoolcraft College Foundation Annual Campaign. Gifts to the Foundation provide direct scholarship support to students who demonstrate financial need and exemplify academic excellence. Many times these scholarships allow students who would otherwise be unable to afford a Schoolcraft College education to pursue their educational dreams.

Our students need your help more than ever. Enrollment and demand for financial aid has increased dramatically. This fall's enrollment is the largest in the history of the college. These increases are straining the limited number of scholarship funds available. Your contribution can and will make a difference in the lives of students striving to reach their educational and personal goals.

Please consider the dramatic impact your support will have on the lives of our students. You will be receiving a campaign packet shortly. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Development Office at 734-462-4463.

Donors Establish Three New Endowments

Culinary Arts and English students are the benefactors of three new endowment funds.

The Jonathan A. Covault Memorial Foundation established both the Jonathan A. Covault Memorial Endowment and the Covault Culinary Arts Memorial Endowment. Interest from the endowments will fund student scholarships, one awarded to a culinary arts student with financial need and the other to a culinary arts student based on high academic performance.

The MacGuffin Fund Endowment will provide annual scholarships for English students and act as a source of funding for The MacGuffin, the college's literary magazine. The magazine was formerly edited by Professor Emeritus Arthur Lindenberg, a significant contributor to this endowment.
